WAS BUNCOED.
A St. Marys Youth is Caught by Sisteraville "Con" Men.
Yesterday they arrived in this city a young fellow named Matheny from St. Marys to see the sights of the "Greatest Oil Town on Earth." He saw them and also ran up against some of the "con" men which infest the city and as a consequence he is a poorer but wiser youth. He was standing at the station when a couple of young fellows approached him and asked him for a ten dollar bill for some change they had. The young fellow to accommodate them handed out a bill he had and let them count out the change to him.
The slick gentleman palmed a $5 bill on him and then left. Matheny counted the money over and discovered that there was something wrong. He started to follow the fellow who had done him, but a "pal" of the "con" man grabbed him by the arm and commenced to ask him questions and thus allowed the other fellow to escape.—Oil Review.
